Accelerated Examination Searches

PatPro, has in the short time since the introduction of the Accelerated Examination Support Document (AESD) Process become a leader in Accelerated Examination (AE) Searching. In less than a year, we have performed over 100 AE searches and have accumulated the knowledge and experience to generate a search report that consistently meets all the requirements of the United States Patent Trademark Office (USPTO).

For more information about this service, please contact us.

Search Reports

Each search is accompanied by a search report that may be customized to your specification. Our standard detailed report includes a concise description of the search scope, identification of the field of search for manual searching, identification of databases accessed and search parameters or queries used for automated searching, identification of Examiner's consulted (where applicable), a listing and a copy of each reference found, and a discussion of the references found.
